

WASHINGTON NEWS -:- GOSSIP

By CHARLES BROOKS SMITH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.—The mortal remains of Lieut. Commander Semmes Reed, retired, former aid to President Taft and executive officer of the presidential yacht, the Mayflower, were interred last week at Arlington Cemetery with military honors, following funeral rites held in St. Paul's church.

He was 39 years of age, a native of Cumberland, Md., but was appointed to the Naval Academy from West Virginia, in which State his surviving relatives reside.

While riding his horse alone in Rock Creek Park eleven years ago, he met with an accident. He was picked up unconscious lying under his horse. He was taken to Walter Reed Hospital where he was to remain a patient for eleven years, never to leave it alive. His spine was crushed, his back was broken in two places and he had suffered a concussion of the brain. Surgical operations restored to him some of his faculties, but never the use of his limbs. But he was never able to leave the hospital. His suffering seemed not to affect his mentality, and his smile and good nature never deserted him through all the eleven years of his great affliction. He was unmarried, but his parents, two sisters and two brothers, all residents of West Virginia, survive him.

President Flavius B. Davidson, of the West Virginia Sheep and Wood Growers Association, whose place of residence is at Bridgeport, W. Va., is in Washington in connection with committee hearings on the Caper bill, an anti-profiteering proposal, establishing methods to define grades, eliminate shoddy, etc. President Davidson favors the bill and so told the House committee holding hearings on it, after he had been presented to the committee by Representative Reed. Mr. Davidson is one of the big farmers of the State, and one of the most successful ones. At one time, a few years ago, he represented Harrison county in the House of Delegates.

Col. William R. Thompson, one of the leading lawyers of the state and prominent citizen of Huntington, has been here for several days transacting business for clients with the department of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. When not so engaged, he was circulating among members of the West Virginia Colony, warming up old friendships, and reminiscing of other times. He is one of the most affable and companionable of men, and he was a welcome guest wherever he called. Once upon a time, Col. Thompson was the candidate of his party for governor of West Virginia, but his party being the Democratic party, and then hopelessly in the minority, he didn't win. But he made a good fight and secured a showing in the returns entirely creditable to him personally.

The Post Office Department has accepted the recommendation of Representative Reed and has issued a commission as postmaster to G. M. Hamner, of Sago, W. Va.

A pension at the rate of $35 a month, the Pension Bureau has notified Representative Woodyard, has been granted to Mrs. Labana J. Jarvis, of Oka, W. Va., widow of the late Thomas Jarvis, a Union veteran; also allotted to her the accrued pension due him.

Charles J. Kuhn, of Charleston, has received official notice of his passing the entrance examination for the Military Academy at West Point. He is, at present, a student at Carnegie Tech, and will continue his studies there until next June, which is the time set for him to report at West Point. He was appointed a provisional cadet upon recommendation of Representative Echols.

A special pension bill, naming Emory S. Flowers, of Nuttfort, W. Va., as the beneficiary, and $50 a month as the pension, was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Reed.

The Adjutant General has notified Representative Echols that uniform and equipment to which the following named ex-soldiers are entitled, have been forwarded to James R. Morton, of Wright; Oliver M. Brammer, of Beckley; Doc Williams, of Artie; W. F. Flynn, of White Sulphur; Preston Galford, of Case; Wm. M. Reid, of Second Creek; and Lucy L. Gray, of Glen White.

Carl Oliver-Kold, of Charleston, is a visitor in the Capital.

The allotment and allowance coming to Wm. F. Howe, of Clarksburg, has been settled with the government for Howe by Representative Reed. The latter has also secured the discharge from the navy of Andre F. Rucquoy, of Clarksburg.
